

NRRP, ECOLOGICAL TRANSITION AND ENERGY INDEPENDENCE

Rome, July 5th - 6th

Why “Energia Italia 2022”?

The first edition of Energia Italia, the international Conference on energy related topics in Italy, Europe and worldwide, features open discussions with the institutions, businesses, regulatory authorities, researchers and the academia, and also consumers.

Energy is currently a most strategically relevant topic, which affects industrial policies and steers environmental choices, driving growth and development.

Whether oil or gas, wind or solar, biomass or green hydrogen, the future of the world depends on energy and energy is the driving force of economy.

The Context

In such a context, as the world is leaving behind two years of pandemic, together with its European partners, Italy is facing crucial challenges arising from a necessary ecological and digital transition, aimed at reshaping industrial policies and growth models, in line with the opportunities brought about by technological progress.

Lately, the tragic events of the war in Ukraine have brought to light the problem of energy supplies and related dependence issues.

The Conference

Energia Italia will provide an insight into current challenges regarding the features, supplies, use and security of energy resources. The event will focus especially on the investment and governance strategies put in place by the Italian Government in the context of the investments envisaged by the NRRP (National Recovery and Resilience Plan), but also on the evaluation of the structural and regulatory choices to make in order to ensure a higher independence for Italy, by means of the energy resources not used yet in the Country.

Energia Italia will also be a great networking opportunity: a strategic meeting-point for decision-makers, businesses, researchers and the academia.

Who is attending?

Representatives from Public Institutions (European Union, Government, Parliament) as well as managers from big and small Italian and foreign energy and related companies will attend Energia Italia.

Discussions will be held in panels or by means of individual speeches from among a long and prestigious list of contributors.

Energy Talk will follow: specific talks with speeches from managers, professors, researchers and startupper.

Where and how

The Conference will be a hybrid event. It will be held at the Auditorium of Roma Eventi – Piazza di Spagna, for all those wishing to join in person, but will also be live-streamed, for those who prefer to attend the event online, whether in Italy or abroad. The setting of the Conference will be turned into a real TV studio, making it possible to go live, just like a TV programme. Streaming will be multilingual.

A high number of top-level speakers, representing the institutions, businesses, and the academia, will discuss decision-making, technologies, regulations, and markets, keeping an effective pace but without compromising on the accuracy of the analysis. An opportunity to address problems, discuss solutions and learn more, in order to make better decisions.
